Versalift adds to team with appointment of new Senior Training Instructor

Versalift UK has expanded its Training Department with the appointment of Lee Simmonds who takes on the new role of Senior Training Instructor, effective 1st June.

Simmonds will be responsible for delivering a variety of bespoke courses including CAP, Pre Delivery Inspection, Insulated Aerial Device and specialist rail mounted MEWP training (2A 2B) in addition to the range of IPAF courses currently provided by the company.

Simmonds joins Versalift from the HSS group of companies where he was UKAS compliance manager, having previously worked as a senior instructor at Nationwide Platforms and before that as a training Manager at A J Access.

Neil Ashton, Product Support Manager at Versalift UK comments: "With more than twenty years of training experience, Lee is well respected and known within the industry and will be a great fit for Versalift as we work to further develop Versalift's training offering".
